The editor wishes to acknowledge receipt of samples of maple products from several parties. He dares not call names and specify quality of product, in fact it would be impossible to say which was good, which better and which best, let it suffice to say that they are all fine and he will eat them with thanks.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. Harlow Foss April 10, with a good number present. An interesting program was carried out, the topic for the meeting being "State Laws." Roll call, written statements of what the W. C. T. U. helped to accomplish in legislation; quiz on state laws of 1904; reading from Union Signal, Mrs. H. R. Cutler; recitation of Crusade Hymn, Mrs. A. R. Cowles.

Many of the merchants and business men of Barton have expressed a desire to form a board of trade, having seen the good effect of such boards in other towns. A meeting of those interested in forming such a board is called for Friday evening of this week, in the high school room. Let a good number come out so an expression of the business men of the place may be had. Bear the date in mind. Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The camp of the Modern Woodmen of America was given an impetus last Tuesday evening when twenty-two new members were adopted by class. After the work a banquet was served in I. O. O. F. hall. Another class is to be adopted to-morrow, Tuesday evening. The order now has a total of $71,000 of insurance in force in the local camp, $22,000 of which was taken by the new class. There are now 62 members, including eight social.

We the undersigned residing on what is now called Cemetery Hill, desire the name changed to Lake View Avenue:

Hon. M. S. Stone, state superintendent of education, will give a lecture on "China and the Chinese," in Seaver's opera hall on Wednesday evening of this week. Mr. Stone has spent several years in the far east and is well posted on the subject and has many friends in this place, who will be pleased to hear him. About fifty stereopticon slides will be shown illustrative of the subject. An admission fee of 10 cents will be charged to pay hall and local expenses. Lecture at 8 o'clock.

One of the largest and most interesting meetings of the Woman's Literary Club was held with Mrs. Heath Wednesday evening, April 4, with the following program: Roll call, Easter sentiments; paper, "Napoleon's Connection with Austria and His Overthrow," Miss Pease; paper, "Vacation Schools," furnished by the Federation of Women's Clubs, read by Mrs. Pillsbury; this was followed by an informal discussion upon the same subject; song, "The Shadows of the Evening Hour," Mrs. Hartwell.

E. H. Glazier has returned from South Royalton where he went with the Percival Furniture Co., and has hired to Pillsbury & Baldwin and is now in Massachusetts in a wood working factory in the interests of said firm. It is understood that Fred Pillsbury and C. C. Baldwin have leased of Pillsbury & Son the factories of the Percival furniture plant and will run it separate from the saw mill, which is now in operation by Pillsbury & Son. They expect to install a fifty-horsepower engine in addition to the new water wheel for auxiliary power.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. H. T. Seaver entertained the Afternoon Study Club at the parlor of Hotel Barton. Twenty-two members responded to roll call; also six invited guests were present. Mrs. Webster read a sketch of the life of Rev. Henry Van Dyke. A very practical paper was "Where to Spend a Vacation," by Mrs. Goodro. Music was rendered by Mrs. Pillsbury. The ten minutes intermission was a reception for Mrs. Murkland and Mrs. Jenness, who returned from California recently. When order was restored Mrs. Ellen Webster read "Wreck of the Hesperus." The beautiful poem, "Graves of a Household," was read by Mrs. Powell. The M. A. S. favored the club with a song, after which Mrs. Barron gave the club some ideas on "The Bible, the Promoter in Modern Painting." Brief sketches of the lives of three great naturalists, Agassiz, by Mrs. Elliott; Audubon, by Mrs. Thompson; Maria Mitchell, by Mrs. Lang; followed.

The lecture and stereopticon views on Yellowstone park given by Prof. H. J. Stannard in the high school room Wednesday evening was well attended, in fact there was not room enough for all to be seated and several remained standing. The views were the finest the writer ever saw thrown onto a sheet and the sense of sentiment was expressed by many present, the clarity of shade and coloring gave a striking likeness of the original scenes, and this in connection with the talk by Mr. Stannard held the interest of the audience to the finish. Many went from the room expressing a desire to visit this "wonderland" and as many of those present were students it is probable their desire will some day be fulfilled. Few in the audience before realized the beauty and extent of territory of the national park and the magnificence of nature's work on this spot of land. At the close of the lecture, Mr. Stannard acknowledged the slides as those of the Northern Pacific railroad. He expects to give the lecture in other towns.

The Country Gentleman, Albany, N. Y., April 2, 1905.

Dear Sirs: It is certainly a step in advance to see the managers of our public institutions buying better cattle. We have just shipped a young bull to Mr. O. D. Owen of Barton, Vermont, for the town farm at that place.

Nine of this bull's dams averaged 23.2 lbs. butter in seven days; he is sired by Paul Johanna Hengerveld Aagie, whose dam made 20.4 lbs. butter in seven days for us here; this bull traces to DeKol 2nd's cow, whose record is 31.3 lbs. butter in seven days; he also traces to such great cows as Pietartje Hengerveld, Pauline Paul, DeKol 2nd and Netherland Hengerveld.

Mr. Owen is a careful buyer, and his town is to be congratulated on having him to manage their farm.

Sincerely yours, HARRY B. WINTERS.

The above item taken from The Country Gentleman will be of interest to our Barton readers. We understand it is Mr. Owen's purpose to breed a better class of cows and bring the dairy and the farm up to a better paying basis, in line with the better farming ideas now prevalent. We doubt if Barton people all realize what a fine location the town farm has and what a pretty place it is. The farm is being improved every year, is producing more and keeping more stock, and the superintendent thinks the time is coming when it will pay all expenses of running and all expense of maintaining the poor.

Miss Helen R. Joslyn, whose sickness has been mentioned in this paper, died last Saturday morning. Miss Joslyn has been out of health since Christmas, and was confined to her bed eight weeks. She has gradually failed and her death had been expected for several days. Miss Joslyn was born in Morrisstown on Jan. 12, 1839. In 1858 she came with her parents to this place, where she has since lived. She was for many years an active member of the Congregational church. She was formerly a member of the choir, and doubtless sang at as many funerals as anyone living in town. She was especially active in the missionary cause, being an officer in the Ladies' Missionary Society for a long time, and most efficient both as giver and collector for missions. Miss Joslyn was a worthy member of the Afternoon Study Club, always faithfully doing the parts assigned her in a manner creditable to herself and of interest to other members; and she will be greatly missed by her associates. She was a cultivated, refined and intellectual lady, a conscientious Christian, ever ready to help in the church wherever she was needed. For a number of the last years she has tenderly cared for a sister in delicate health, who will sadly miss her ministrations. She leaves to mourn her loss her sister, Pomona W. Joslyn, her two brothers, Myron W. Joslyn of Boston, Mass., and Stephen P. Joslyn of California, besides other more distant relatives and many friends. Her brother Myron and his daughter Bertha and her niece Dorothy, Stephen's daughter, were present at the funeral, which was held at two o'clock this afternoon at the house, Rev. A. B. Blake officiating. The interment was in the village cemetery.

St. Paul's Church Notes.

If the roads are passable there will be a late Mass at East Albany last Sunday of the month, April 29.

Next Sunday, Mass at 10 a. m., sermon, "The Three Resurrections: of Samuel the Prophet, of Lazarus, and of Christ."

There was a large attendance yesterday at Easter services. The decorations were made by Miss Mary Hafford and were beautifully arranged. The flowers consisted of Easter lilies, roses and foliage. And the altar was aglow with Easter candles.

Holy Week exercises were all largely attended throughout the week. Father Turcott delivered some fine sermons. The Repository needs special mention. It was more beautiful and impressive this year than ever before, and beautifully illuminated. Many availed themselves of the opportunity of visiting it.

The Junior League of the M. E. church held a penny social last Thursday evening. Seventy-five children were present and the penny collection amounted to three dollars.

Fred Clough invited a number of friends to a sugar party last Thursday evening and it was certainly a success. H. Rood also treated a good company to new sugar last Tuesday evening.

At the annual meeting of the Masons Thursday evening the following officers were elected: F. E. Wheeler, W. M.; H. S. Webster, S. W.; C. D. French, J. W.; F. C. Brown, Treas.; G. P. Adams, Sec.; A. W. Fletcher, S. D.; O. W. Locke, J. D.; E. A. Willey, S. S.; E. P. Lyon, J. S.; V. G. Marshall, Mar.; W. C. Twombly, Chap.; J. H. Rosebrook, Tyler. The installation of officers will be at a meeting held on Thursday evening the 26th inst.

Again we have to report the death of an aged and much respected citizen, Mrs. Lavinia Locke. Mrs. Locke died on the morning of April eleventh after only a few hours' sickness. She was in attendance at the Congregational church on Sunday morning, and again on the same evening Monday and Tuesday she was around the house about as well as usual, but passed away suddenly Wednesday morning. Miss Lavinia Knight was born in Coventry on March 12, 1838, and lived in that town for thirty-two years. In 1868 she married E. Beede Locke. In 1870 Mr. and Mrs. Locke moved to Brownington and lived in that town for three years, when they moved to this place. Mrs. Locke has been an active member of the Congregational church for many years. She was identified with the Missionary Society, the Ladies' Aid Society and was helpful in all the work of the church. She was a kind mother, affectionate wife and beloved by a large circle of friends. Just two months previous to her death her husband passed away, and none of her friends were prepared for her sudden departure. The church will greatly miss her, she was such a constant attendant on all the services and so helpful. She leaves two sons, O. W. Locke of this place, and B. W. Locke of Montpelier, and one daughter, Miss Jennie Locke, teacher in the Barton graded school; and a sister, Mrs. Emma Dow of Coventry, to mourn her loss. The funeral services were held last Friday, Rev. G. L. Shaeffer officiating, and the remains were interred in the cemetery at this place. The friends have the sympathy of the community.

Meade Post, G. A. R., held a memorial service in memory of the late Comrade A. D. Mathews at the M. E. church on April 10th. The service was solemn but exceedingly interesting. Rev. S. G. Lewis made fitting remarks as to the character, ability and valuable traits of the deceased brother, the pleasure of his acquaintance, the value of his counsel and said many just and pleasant things about him. Rev. G. L. Shaeffer also spoke in an eloquent and interesting manner. Mrs. Daniel Skinner, who had known Comrade Mathews many years, spoke feelingly and wove into her remarks much that was of special interest to all present. E. H. Webster of Barton read a paper which related to his soldier life. This paper was highly complimented as it brought out many facts of army and prison life which were new to all present in so realistic a manner as to make us all see the facts related. Mrs. H. H. Twombly also read a paper which was highly appreciated. Different comrades contributed remarks on the subject. It was a most impressive and interesting service which will be long remembered by the many present. The following resolutions were adopted by the members of the G. A. R. Post.

WHEREAS: Death has taken one of our number, respected and active comrade, A. D. Mathews, who passed away March 3, 1906, in the 72nd year of his age, one who has had at heart and in hand the welfare and prosperity of our Post, and has well filled his part in life, and will be missed and mourned by a large circle of friends.

Resolved: That we deeply feel and mourn his loss from our ranks, and humbly bow to him who doeth all things well.

Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our book of record; also a copy be presented to his widow and family; and our Charter be draped in mourning ninety days.

C. B. ORDWAY, DANIEL SKINNER, Committee on Resolutions.

Congregational Church Notes.

The next regular song service will be given next Sabbath evening. The chorus will meet for rehearsal on Friday evening immediately after the prayer service at 8:30.

An Easter banquet and feast of eggs will be given in the vestry of the Congl church on Tuesday evening, April 17. A musical and literary program will be given after the banquet. Price 15c.

The Easter service rendered by the Sunday school and chorus last evening proved a grand success. The chorus of 40 voices was accompanied by an orchestra of six instruments, all under the efficient leadership of Mr. Apple. The church was beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers by Mrs. Rowell and the Sunday school class. The community showed its interest by crowding the church. Thanks to all who contributed flowers.

Methodist Church Notes.

There will be no services next Sunday. Sunday school will meet at 12 o'clock as usual.

Yesterday closed the services for this conference year at the M. E. church. The choir sang Easter music and the parts were well rendered. At the close of the service six persons were baptized and joined the church on probation. In the evening the choir was assisted by the Junior League and the little folks sang very prettily the Easter songs.

At the close of the evening service last evening the pastor made a few remarks about his pastorate of five years. He said in part, "When I came to this charge I found a membership of 121 and 13 probationers. Of this number only 78 are in the church now. 64 have joined the church during my term so our present membership is 142 members and 11 probationers. I have married 52 couples and attended 95 funerals."
